

The Write Way to Draw

With Vera Stankovic

Have you returned to making art during the lockdown? Many people did. I'd like to inspire you to continue doing what makes you happy.

Experiment and give your drawing a boost with the Write Way to Draw workshop.

Experiment, how?

You'll take your favorite book, choose a paragraph you'll rewrite and... make drawings using the uniqueness of your handwriting. I will gently lead you through the process.

In order to make the most of it you need to:

- Pick a book you love
- Do longhand writing
- Do stream of consciousness writing
- Let yourself experiment and explore
- Get the guidance you need

Are you ready to relax, make beauty and (re)discover your creativity?

The Write Way to Draw is for you ...

- if you are new to drawing and would like to start drawing without the fear of "not knowing how" or the fear of "not drawing well enough".
- if you are a designer, illustrator or other creative professional and you are looking for an experience that will boost your creativity.
- if you love drawing and just need to relax or let go.

If you work with me, you will:

- Broaden your understanding of drawing
- Explore the visual qualities of your handwriting and integrate them into drawing
- Find a new quality and freedom of your line and tones
- Easily face the fear of "not knowing how to draw" or "not drawing well enough"
- Get a lasting positive impact on your drawing
- Express yourself and (re)discover your creativity
- Release suppressed feelings and let go
- Get relief while making beauty
